Moving from assistant to associate professor will be Walser H. Allen, Jr., History; Jack F. Dermid, Biology Dr. Lewis E. Nance, Chemistry; and Dr. Paul Thayer, Earth Sciences.

Instructors promoted to assistant professor include Larry R. Honeycutt, Physical Education; Martha L. Moye, Mathematics; Dr. Christopher M. Sieverdes, Sociology; Dr. James B. Slager, Psychology; and Warren Tucker, English.

DR. SIEVERDES RECEIVES GRANT

Dr. Christopher M. Sieverdes will attend a workshop, "Quantitative and Computing Techniques in the Sociology Curriculum," July 16 through August 3 at UNC-Chapel Hill. Dr. Sieverdes received a grant from the Institute for Undergraduate Curricular Reform for the summer study.

WALTER MITTY IS 'BEST YET'

"The Secret Life of Walter Mitty," currently playing in the Straw-Hat Summer Theatre, has been described by one reviewer as "The best yet from the Straw Hat in '73--and possibly the best for some time to come."

The funny, brassy little musical with some delicious satirical humor will be staged nightly through Sunday. To reserve seats, call 791-9695 or extension 272 on the campus.

SIEVERDES PAPER PRESENTED TO NCSA

"The Decision to React to Delinquent Behavior: An Analysis of Referrals to Juvenile Court" by Doctors Charles W. Thomas and Christopher M. Sieverdes was presented to the annual North Central Sociological Association in Cincinnati, Ohio, May 9-12.

TWO HOME GAMES THIS WEEK

The UNC-W Seahawks, currently number one in summer league baseball standings, will host UNC-Chapel Hill July 21 and the Campbell Camels on July 24.

LEGISLATURE APPROVES NCSEA PROPOSALS

The 1973 General Assembly approved a number of programs proposed by the N. C. State Employees' Association to make state jobs more attractive. Listed below are the items proposed and passed without change:

SALARIES: 5% increase effective July 1, 1973, and an additional 5% increase effective July 1, 1973 for state employees earning $2.63 per hour or less

HOSPITALIZATION: Full funding for low option program. The state will increase its contribution to $13 per month per employee RETIREMENT: Unreduced retirement benefits after 30 years of service regardless of age. Employees working longer than 30 years will receive higher benefits. Increase in benefits to members currently on retirement.

LONGEVITY: A revised longevity plan that reflects an employee's length of service regardless of status in pay range. ($2.6 million appropriated for this purpose)

ANNUAL LEAVE: To change the General Statutes on amount of leave an employee may earn to a graduated method to reward long-term employees. First 2 years, 10 days; 3-5 years, 12 days; 6-10 years, 15 days; 11-15 years, 18 days; 16-20 years, 21 days; over 20 years, 24 days. Employees on the state payroll prior to July 1, 1973, will not lose their minimum of three weeks vacation, but will receive the added days. Accumulation of 30 days per year will remain the same.

Proposals passed with modification were:

PER DIEM: Proposed: $20 per day for in-state travel; $30 per day for out-of-state travel

Passed: $19 per day for in-state travel; $25 per day for out-of-state travel

MILEAGE: Proposed: 12¢ per mile for privately-owned vehicles used in state travel

Passed: 11¢ per mile for privately-owned vehicles used in state travel

CERTIFICATES AVAILABLE

A new certificate is available to all employees who wish to change their Federal Tax exemptions. May 30, 1975 payroll checks will have less Federal Tax taken out. This will mean a larger net take home figure. Anyone wishing to keep their Federal Tax deduction the same as it was prior to May 1, 1975 may complete a new allowance certificate (Form W-4) dropping one exemption.

The marital status as indicated on the Federal exemption certificate is a factor in determining the income tax withholding rate. When this status is not indicated, withholding is calculated in accordance with the single rate. The employee's current marital status and number of exemptions were printed on his last check stub. Anyone desiring more information on this please contact Carl Gore, A-103.

LIBRARY NEWS

The new version of Chapter Six (Academic Freedom and Tenure) of the Code of the University of North Carolina as adopted by the Board of Governors at its June 13 meeting has been placed with faculty materials on reserve in the Randall Library. Minutes of the April 25-26 meeting of the Faculty Assembly of the University of North Carolina are also available at the circulation desk.

Computerized searches on specific subjects are now available through the Randall Library by special arrangement with the N.C. Science and Technology Research Center. The Center will provide searches of any of several collections in education and the sciences for students at a reduced fee of $15.00 per search. The reduced charge of $15.00 for each search is possible as the Randall Library staff is cooperating with the Center in helping the researcher write a program on his specific subject. The print-out which the individual will receive includes citations to articles and studies, many of which may be found in the Randall Library. Of particular interest is the capability of searching the two publications of the Educational Resources Information Center: Research in Education, and Current Index to Journals in Education.

For a higher fee, retrospective and/or current awareness searches may be conducted for students and faculty in Biological Abstracts, Chemical Abstracts Condensates, and other data bases in the sciences. Contact Phil Smith in the library for information about these services.

The Randall Library will be closed on Friday, July 4, the closing hour will be extended to 11:00 p.m. on the evenings of July 6-8.

October 15, 1975

TO: All Students, Faculty and Staff of UNC-W

FROM: William M. Malloy, Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, UNC-W, Title IX Compliance Official

RE: Title IX Compliance Program - Compliance with Federal Sex Discrimination Regulations (Title IX)

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 prohibits sex discrimination in all facets of institutions of higher education and is being implemented by HEW through a complicated and extensive regulation.

The Title IX regulation requires that each institution complete a self-evaluation and change by July 21, 1976, and that each institution appoint an individual who will be responsible for that effort. In compliance with this directive, I have the dubious distinction of having been appointed the Title IX Compliance Official for our campus. My office number is Alderman 113 and my telephone extension is 219.

The "basic notice" relative to compliance with Title IX by UNC-W is as follows:

> The University of North Carolina at Wilmington does not discriminate on the basis of sex in the educational programs or activities which it operates. The University of North Carolina at Wilmington is required by Title IX not to discriminate in such a manner. The requirement not to discriminate in education programs and activities extends to employment therein, and to admission thereto and inquiries concerning the application of Title IX and of this part to the University of North Carolina at Wilmington may be referred to William M. Malloy, 113 Alderman Building, Extension 219.

In the very near future a coordinating committee will be formed comprised of individuals from the following areas: academic affairs, student affairs, employment, admissions and from the student body. This committee will be responsible for conducting the campus self-evaluation in terms of "its current policies and practices and the effects thereof concerning admission of students, treatment of students, and employment of both academic and nonacademic personnel working in connection with the recipient's (institution's) education program or activity." Upon the evaluation of all appropriate areas, the committee will "modify any of these policies and practices which do not or may not meet the requirements of this part; and take appropriate remedial steps to eliminate the effects of any discrimination which resulted or may have resulted from adherence to these policies and practices."

The following update is presented in an effort to keep all members of the university community informed relative to the progress of our Title IX compliance efforts.

A. Title IX Grievance Committee Established

Title IX of the Education Acts of 1972, which became effective on July 21, 1975, prohibits "discrimination on the basis of sex in any education program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance." One requirement of the new law is that colleges and universities covered by Title IX establish "grievance procedures providing for prompt and equitable resolution of student and employee complaints alleging any actions which would be prohibited" by the regulations. UNC-Wilmington does not condone discrimination against students or employees on the basis of sex.

The Title IX Grievance Committee for UNC-W includes the following persons:

William M. Malloy, Title IX Compliance Officer (nonvoting)

Two Students:	Judy Weeks Jeanne Bolo Alternates: Kay Sebian, Jo Jones
Two Faculty:	Derick Davis Kay Tiblier Alternates: Sue Snyder, Roger Lowery
Two Staff:	Helena Cheek Delores Harvey Alternate: Steve Medlin
One Administrative:	Dorothy Marshall Alternate: To be appointed by Compliance Officer

B. Grievance Procedures Established

1. All grievances relative to Title IX should be presented to the Title IX Compliance Officer (William M. Malloy, 113 Alderman)

2. The Title IX Compliance Officer will determine whether a complaint mandates a formal or informal procedure for remedy.

3. Informal complaints shall be made orally to the Compliance Officer. The Compliance Officer shall attempt to resolve the question between the parties involved. If the complainant is not satisfied with the outcome of an informal attempt at resolution, the complainant can appeal the decision to the Compliance Officer in writing. Such an appeal shall constitute a formal complaint.

4. Formal complaints or grievances shall be presented to the Compliance Officer in writing. Within two school days of the receipt of a formal grievance, the Compliance Officer shall notify and inform all Grievance Committee members. Likewise, the grievant shall be informed that the case will be heard by the Grievance Committee and the grievant shall be given the time, location, and date of the hearing.

5. Principles of due process shall be observed in all formal grievance procedures. A written record of such proceedings will be maintained. Recommendations may be made directly to persons affected. The full force of the university shall operate to compel any persons to furnish information and/or testimony to duly constituted investigatory committees, groups or persons subject to the restrictions of law.

6. Final authority for the implementation of recommendations for corrective action shall be with the Chancellor or his designee. Appeal from any of the persons, committees, or groups previously mentioned shall be directly to the Chancellor.

7. Appeal from the actions or the determinations of the Chancellor shall be as provided by the University Code and the laws of the State of North Carolina.

C. Title IX Self-Evaluation Study Committee Expanded

The original Title IX Self-Evaluation Committee for UNC-W has been expanded with regard to student and faculty memberships. It was felt that a more diversified or wider range of faculty opinion or input was necessary. The additions are as follows:

Faculty:	Sue Snyder, white female - Psychology
	Kay Tiblier, white female - Sociology
	Albert Sharp, white male - Sociology
	Roger Lowery, white male - Political Science
Students:	Judy Weeks, white female - Student
	Kay Sebian, white female - Student

CANNON ENSCONCED

A nine and a half-foot parrott cannon recovered by students and faculty in the Program in Marine and Historic Site Archaeology in August 1974 has been permanently housed on the UNC-W campus near the flagpole. The cannon remains the official property of the U.S. Department of the Navy.

Recovered from the wreck of the SS Peterhoff, the cannon was estimated to weigh 3,500 pounds and was encrusted with an additional 350 pounds of barnacles and other incrustation. Leslie Bright and associates at the State Preservation Lab at Fort Fisher are credited with preservation of the cannon which was transported to the campus by the 993rd Transportation Company of the U.S. Army Reserve. Members of the UNC-W physical plant staff constructed the gun carriage upon which it rests.
